"A Harper has always lived at Harper House, the centuries-old mansion just outside of Memphis. And for as long as anyone alive remembers, the ghostly Harper Bride has walked the halls, singing lullabies at night... Hayley Phillips came to Memphis hoping for a new start, for herself and her unborn child. She wasn't looking for a handout from her distant cousin Roz, just a job at her thriving In the Garden nursery. What she found was a home surrounded by beauty and the best friends she's ever had--including Roz's son Harper. To Hayley's chagrin, she has begun to dream about Harper--as much more than a friend... If Hayley gives in to her desire, she's afraid the foundation she's built with Harper will come tumbling down. And that wouldn't be the only consequence, since her dreams are tangled up with Roz and Mane Garden includes a short story called the House of Incubus.:Lesa, a young Christian woman visits a church for the first time in a new town she just moved to for work, experiences an unusual sequence of events. This is no ordinary church. This church has secrets and is no stranger to witchcraft, necromancy, and divination. Through her faith and obedience with the help of angels she is able to rebuke and cancel the plans of Ekwensu, the all-powerful pastor who is a pawn of Satan and Mother Laveau, a creole voodoo woman who is the pastor's aide. This is an adaption of different cultural views of the supernatural including angels, witches, and demons in a perspective from the modern day church. It's so easy to be deceived when you don't have the ability to use discernment right away.
