Book Review: Toy Car Collectors Guide. A good book, but it could use a lot more photographs. I bought the book in the hope of finding out if the few model cars I have are worth anything, but most of the information is in a format of just words and numbers and so means very little to me.

We have a vintage toy car, probably about 50 years old that my oldest son played with. Underneath is the name Midwest, and Rockford III. We plan to pass it on to our youngest son, for his little boy. Thought you might like to add it to the list of manufacturers. It is quite crude by todays standards.

Identifying Tootsietoys, a line of metal die-cast cars, trucks and assorted play toys dating back to the early 1900s, is difficult because many don't have a trademark emblem, or they are missing an original labeled box. However, collectors can research Tootsietoy listings on eBay, consult with antique toy dealers or obtain a "Collector's Guide to Tootsietoys, Identification & Values, Third Edition," by David E. Richter, available on Amazon.

Dana Johnson, author of Matchbox Toys, 1947 to 2003, Fourth Edition, The Other Matchbox Toys, and Diecast Toys & Scale Models, has produced a revised edition of his popular Toy Car Collector's Guide. Newly updated and expanded, this second edition provides an alphabetical listing by brand of nearly 1,000 brands of cast iron, tinplate, diecast, slush mold, plastic, white metal, and other toy cars from around the world and through automotive history. An estimated 50,000 models are represented, including brief company profiles of every brand. This second edition is not just expanded--it's exploded! Readers should clear some space on their shelf for this compendium of mean machines, including a color section that's twice as big as the first edition, with 50 additional manufacturers for a total of 300. 100 color photos. 3,400 b&w photos.

Presents a collection of bibliographic essays that describe the history, culture, and impact of the automobile and automobile industry in the United States.

The history of Dinky Toys, Corgi Toys and other makers of diecast metal cars has been covered in great detail in many books and magazine articles; by contrast, information on plastic toy cars is much harder to come by. Yet collectors are taking an increasing interest in plastic cars, particularly as the rise in the value of early diecast and tinplate models has put many of these out of reach of the average enthusiast. For the first time, this book aims to provide a systematic introduction to the vast number of plastic cars made during the 1950s and 1960s. Years of research have enabled the author to uncover many fascinating facts about the companies who made these toys. Some were major players in the toy industry, like Tri-ang and Brimtoy in the UK, Norev and Minialuxe in France, Gama and Siku in Germany and Ingap in Italy. Many others, though, were more obscure, and some only modeled one car before disappearing without trace. More than 250 photographs of these toys are included, with the emphasis being on the most colorful and realistic examples, all of them based on real vehicles of the period. In many cases, the toy is pictured alongside its original box, the presence of which can often double the value of the item to a collector. Readers will also find a handy glossary listing the names of many of the companies who were active in this field in the 1950s and 1960s, together with some evocative period advertisements and catalogue illustrations. If you thought that a model car had to be made of diecast metal to be worth collecting, this book might change your mind . . . With 250 color photos, extensive appendices and identification aids this is a must have for any collector or dealer.

Built tough enough to withstand the demands of any collector, this indispensable identification and price guide, now in the 4th edition, has been completely updated. &#xA0;&#xA0;&#xA0;The trusted name in collecting toy cars and trucks provides readers with over 300 manufacturers organized alphabetically, and more than 15,000 listings - some not listed anywhere else - priced in up to three grades of condition! &#xA0;&#xA0;&#xA0;Contains pressed steel, die-cast, slush-molded, promotional models, rubber toys, Japanese tin, and tin litho.
